OVERVIEW

Chulu West peak is another 6000M+ climbing peak in the mid-western part of Nepal. The peak is located in the beautiful region of the Annapurna region. Trekking through one of the world's most beautiful trekking route climbers sets apart to Chulu base camp from Ledar village to embark on their peak climbing adventure. The peak resides on the backdrop of the great Annapurna Massif range, Himlung Himal on the northeast and further is the great Manaslu peak.

Climbers are often confused with whether the climb is on the East or the West part of Chulu Peak? To clarify your confusion, Chulu Peak consists of 4 summits, two from Westside and two from Eastside. West routes are considered less technical and safe compared to east climbing routes. We climb via the Chulu West peak route and the peak is graded as PD/3. This peak is suitable for novice and intermediate experience level climbers. With fewer technical sections, climbers will mostly depend on their endurance and physical strength while climbing. The climb is mostly on ice and snow terrain all the way to the summit. Instruction must be followed as instructed by our lead/assistant guides. Our team will set up two alpine camps at base camp and high camp. On the day of the summit, we will descend down to base camp before making our way to Thorong-La-pass.

Annapurna region is not packed with climbers and trekkers compared to the Everest region. So any climbers seeking remote and less traffic on their trail, this will be the right option for you. Having said that the beauty of the Himalayas is not compromised around the Annapurna region. It offers a different beauty and leaves an impression of its own. If you as us Annapurna circuit region is one of our favorites because of its access points, cultures, landscapes, giant mountains, remoteness and we could go on forever.

NAMAS ADVENTURE

ALPINE GRADING

1 or F: Easy These routes involve easy glacier travel and may require some rock scrambling. Except for the glacier sections, you can often climb rope less.

2 or PD: a little difficult. These routes involve some technical climbing sections and glaciers of higher difficulty. There may also be some short sections of steep terrain. They are good introductory climbs for beginners.

3 or AD : Fairly hard. These are physically demanding routes for experienced alpine climbers. They usually have steep and exposed climbing sections or snow/ice slopes over 50°. The descents are long and more complicated, and most of the route requires to be roped.

4 or D: Difficult. These routes involve sustained rock climbing, ice climbing or snow travel. They are considered a significant undertaking and demand a huge commitment.

5 or TD: Very difficult. Highly technical climbs that involve long distances, remote locations, and hard multi-pitch climbing sections. Besides, there are often other hazards like bad weather (extreme cold, strong winds) or poor protection on the routes.

6 or ED: Extremely difficult. These are extreme climbs (the most difficult in the world, actually!) with continuous difficulties. They take several days to be completed.

FITNESS GRADING

A - Fitness level to be able to enjoy multi day walks of 6-7 hours per day. Should be able to carry 5-8kg of weight during the activity days.

B - Good level of cardio-vascular fitness and strength fitness needed. Can train by running or cycling 30+ min 3/4 times a week combined with some gym session of endurance or lower body straightening. Should be able to carry 10kgs during the activity day.

C - High level of fitness level required both in strengthening and endurance fitness level. Should be able to carry 8 -12 kgs of load. Training or gym sessions are required to attain this level of fitness. Previous experience of multi-day hill walking is essential.

D - Exceptional level of all round fitness will be required to cope with the exceptionally strenuous nature of these expeditions. Experience is required to be able to take on tours of this physical grading.

E - Exceptional level of all round fitness coupled with ability to cope and resist in highest of the altitude. A resistance to extreme weather conditions over extended periods of time. Heavy loads over multiple days may need to be carried. Previous experience is highly crucial in order to prepare your body endure the high level of mental and physical toughness from both altitude and terrains.

Expedition Fitness

When it comes to expedition the more fitter you are and more stronger the better your chances of successfully climbing to the summit and most of all enjoying the expedition. The grading system gives you an indication of the level required for each expedition both technically and physically. It is very important that you train and build your level of fitness depending on your choice of expedition and whilst on expedition if your fitness is deemed to be inadequate our leaders would ask you to remain at camp. Please discuss with our guiding leaders on how you feel and weather you can actually make that push during all climbing/expedition, as we take your and staff safety seriously and would not want any unchecked incidents or miss out on your successful summit bid.

Adventure Travel – Accuracy of Itinerary

It is on our best interest to operate our expeditions as printed in the itinerary but due to unseen circumstances it may be necessary to make some changes as a result of flight schedules, climatic conditions, limitations of infrastructure or other operational factors. As a consequence, the order or location of overnight stops and the duration of the day may vary from those outlined. We would ask for your patience in this case as a lot of these can be out of our hands and we will best decide to plan alternatives. Our assigned leader is responsible for the overall safety of the whole team during the expedition and will encourage the use of safe climbing practises during the expedition. They will ensure that every opportunity is taken to fulfil the objectives described in the trip's outline itinerary, but have the freedom to modify any plans subject to weather, delays or unforeseen circumstances which are deemed to be out of the control of Namas Adventure. The leader will maintain a good team spirit and attempt to keep morale high for the whole group. Wherever possible the leader will keep the Namas Adventure office informed of team progress and any emergency situations that may arise.

NAMAS ADVENTURE

Insurance

All our clients are required to have adequate insurance for their trip programs. When conducting research for insurance options, please look into the details of the policies covering the right requirements. Unexpected life events occur. Your travel plans might change due to illness while you are abroad or because of a family emergency even before you leave home. Our recommendation is that you protect your investment and welfare against these unexpected circumstances so you and your loved ones can prepare for your upcoming adventure with more peace of mind.

- Cancellation or curtailment
- Helicopter rescue
- Repatriation
- The altitude that you are expected to attain
- Grade of trek/climb/expedition
- Medical cover
